★★★★★ Brady

High quality model of The Barbican and Museum Of London. AccuCities were very helpful in their correspondence in choosing the right model and level of detail. The level 2 model shown has a great level of accurate detail for site levels, plinths and raised walkways in this area, which are all very complex. The massing is also current and done to a high standard. Overall very pleased with my purchase and would recommend!

★★★★★ Lewis Darnton

I contacted AccuCities about providing an area of model for a student architecture project. Sandor + Milo are very responsive and helpful via email, and the 3D model is just what I was after, this will no doubt save me time and allow me to concentrate on my own project rather than mapping the existing context. I have no doubt if I have any questions or queries about the model I purchased from AccuCities, they would be ready to help. Thank you.

★★★★★ Arthur Siegel (Turi)

AccuCities instantly changes the way I approach the design of my projects. With an accurate and detailed model of London I am able to work live with the greater context of the site. It allows me to see the impact my project will have on the site. It is an invaluable tool for architects and everybody else.

Renders turn out beautifully. It really takes the renders to a whole other level

The team is phenomenally prompt and are always happy to help with any types of questions.
